After doing the reset and every worked fine, I went back into the settings and changed them back to the way I had it before and the crashing started again! After switching them off one by one, I have pin pointed the cause of the crash!When you reset your settings, it turns off auto time zone detection. After this, try the app.If it's a storage issue, try removing a bunch of songs that you usually skip whenever it comes up on the playlist. Soft Reset The first thing you do when you find that an iPhone app keeps crashing is a soft reset.
